Logo Spacing and Placement

When placing the logo into a document, there should always be a minimum space around the logo that is free of competing graphics or text. The space should be 1/4 of the total height of the logo.

The logo should never be displayed smaller than 0.6" high in print, and no smaller than 116 x 43 pixels when displayed at 72 dpi on the web.

The only situations where the logo may be reproduced at a smaller size is when there is no way to physically fit the logo at the minimum size on the object being produced, such as a pencil; however, for all print and web applications where room is adequate, the logo must be the minimum size or larger. Please ask for approval if your design requires the use of a smaller logo.

Proper Logo Usage

The logo should be used exactly as provided in the logo file set. Do not alter, stretch, squish, or try to recreate the logo. The following examples illustrate common mistakes to avoid.

CORRECT USEAGE	DO NOT STRETCH	DO NOT SQUISH

DO NOT ROTATE	DO NOT RECOLOUR	DO NOT ADD GRADIENTS

DO NOT CHANGE FONTS	DO NOT MODIFY	DO NOT ADD SHADOW

Colours

The following swatches represent the official colours of our brand. When reproducing the logo or developing any promotional materials, please use the exact colour specifications shown here. Avoid trying to approximate colours. Pantone and CMYK values will be suitable for most forms of printing. The RGB values are best for use on the web, and the HEX values are also good for use on the web, as well as for choosing colour values in programs such as Microsoft Office.

A Note About Colour Accuracy

Colour accuracy across mediums is notoriously difficult to guarantee due to the reality that different colour reproduction methods are used depending on medium. For example, CMYK colour values are used in most ink-based print processes, while RGB or HEX values are used to display colour on digital screens. Pantone inks represent the most accurate reproduction method, but only if true Pantone inks are used, often at a higher cost.
